

KATE MULLINS

Kate Mullins is a founding director of Seed Gallery in Newmarket, Auckland. Established in 2006, Seed is a gallery committed to fostering the best talent from a new generation of artists, with an exhibition programme which includes a range of contemporary art forms and practices. Having completed a Bachelor of Fine Arts in 2000, Mullins worked in marketing, styling and art direction for print media and TVCs between 2001 and 2006 and has been an occasional speaker on professional practice and marketing. Her role as gallery director is informed by her unusual combination of experience in fine arts and retail marketing.