

JOHN HORNER

John Horner is a Mount Eden resident who has a long association with Eden Arts. An honours graduate in painting from Elam in the 1960s, John is an expressive landscape painter and three times finalist in the Wallace Art Awards.

His work is represented in many private collections. John has also judged a number of competitions in the Auckland Province.

A Senior Lecturer at Whitecliffe College of Art and Design for 30 years, John is now retired and painting full time.

John has participated in Artists in Eden Day every March for over 25 years, most recently alongside daughter Rosalind, and in March 2018 he was one of the first artists-in-residence at the newly established Eden Arts residency at Karekare Beach.

ROSALIND HORNER

Rosalind is a graduate of Whitecliffe College of Art and Design and is a painter and print-maker. She is currently teaching Art to a senior level at Waiuku College.

Rosalind has been involved in Eden Arts events for a number of years, including entering the Young Artists Awards, being nominated as a finalist in the 2012 Eden Arts Art Schools Award and participating in Artists in Eden Day.
